What Colleges Fit You?

Jane has always loved to play with Legos ever since she was a kid and enjoys solving puzzles. While in high school Jane has participated in a lot of science competitions, and is involved in her school's robotics club. She loves learning in bigger classrooms because it gives her the chance to hear other students' ideas and questions. What Jane wants out of her college experience is to be able to live in the dorms, get involved in different clubs and organizations, and explore interests outside of just studying.

Max has wanted to write mystery novels for as long as he can remember. He loves reading various genres of books, and loves to share what he's read to others. Max is in his junior year of high school and is deciding on what colleges to apply to. Max would like to go to a small school located in a small town, learning in smaller classrooms, and having a comfortable atmosphere where he can focus on his studies.

Michael has always wanted to become a film director. You can always see Michael with his video camera and a notebook. He's very good at making and editing videos for his local dog shelter to help promote pet adoption. His favorite classes that he has taken so far in high school are Film Making and Special Effects in Sci Fi Movies.

Anne wants to follow in her Dad's footsteps and join the Air Force. She has always been the captain of her soccer team, and is always willing to take on any leadership roles when asked. Anne's goal for the future is to go to college eventually, but wants to become somewhat more financially stable before attending.

Austin has always planned to go to college after high school, but is not sure what he wants to major in yet. He knows that he would like to eventually go to a traditional university but doesn't want to spend that much money until he's sure of what he wants to study. He prefers small classroom settings and does not mind missing the traditional college experience of living in the freshman dorms.
